The Keeping the Faith Breast Cancer Survivors' Luncheon is an annual event to celebrate breast cancer survivors and to honor the legacy of those who inspire us. The event is named for Faith Fancher, who was a senior reporter with KTVU TV in Oakland, California. She allowed KTVU to report on her breast cancer fight not to bring attention to herself, but to encourage women to be vigilant, to be tested, and to be brave. Learn more about Faith's legacy at www.faithfancher.org.
